Homeopathy for natural and holistic fertility support

Women can use homeopathic remedies when suffer from irregular menstrual cycle and hormonal imbalance

Homeopathy can be used in the case of some uterine disorders, such as fibroids, polyps and endometriosis

During the IVF treatment, homeopathy can ease feelings of anxiety, fear and sadness.

Lycopodium One of the remedies indicated the problem is a polyp in the uterus. It can be useful for women very anxious about their health, with a lack of self-confidence

Very good remedy in premature ovarian failure. A woman who needs this appears cheerful but may feel sad inside her.

Sepia One of the most important remedies related to infertility. A woman may suffer from depression, hormonal imbalance and repeated early miscarriages.

Ignatia A remedy for women who lose their periods after sudden sad situations in life.

Staphysagria If a woman has a thin endometrial lining, as a consequence of injury of tissue

Cocculus indicus One of the remedies used when periods are irregular. It can be useful for women exhausted by the nightwatching over a loved one.
